

Comera Life Sciences Announces Research Collaboration with Top 10 Pharmaceutical Company to Develop Subcutaneous Formulation

WOBURN, Mass. – (BUSINESS WIRE) – Comera Life Sciences, Inc. (“Comera” or the “Company”), which is developing a new generation of bio-innovative biologic medicines to improve patient access, safety, and convenience, today announced it has entered into a research collaboration with a top 10 global pharmaceutical company and developer of medicines across oncology, hematology and immunology and other therapeutic areas.

Under the terms of the agreement, Comera will utilize its proprietary SQore™ formulation platform to develop a subcutaneous formulation of the partner’s currently marketed medicine.

“Our second announced collaboration this year is a critical milestone in our long-term strategy to partner with top-tier pharma companies and leverage our SQore platform to develop subcutaneous formulations to improve access and patient use for much-needed medications,” said Jeff Hackman, Chief Executive Officer and Chairman of Comera. “We look forward to building upon the success of our partner’s biologic therapy. Subcutaneous dosing offers the possibility of self-care, less invasiveness, shorter treatment times, healthcare savings and other significant advantages over current forms of intravenous administration.”

Financial terms of the collaboration were not disclosed.

About Comera Life Sciences

Leading a compassionate new era in medicine, Comera Life Sciences is applying a deep knowledge of formulation science and technology to transform essential biologic medicines from intravenous (IV) to subcutaneous (SQ) forms. The goal of this approach is to provide patients with the freedom of self-injectable care, reduce institutional dependency and to put patients at the center of their treatment regimen.

On January 31, 2022, Comera Life Sciences and OTR Acquisition Corp. (Nasdaq: OTRA) (“OTR”), a publicly traded special purpose acquisition company (SPAC), announced a proposed business combination.
